

Level 2 Customer Service Practitioner in equine or animal care

Embarking on a customer service qualification within the equine or animal care industry offers individuals the opportunity to combine their love for animals with valuable professional skills. From assisting customers with enquiries about riding lessons to providing guidance on pet care, every interaction becomes a chance to deepen the learner's knowledge and optimise their communication skills. Participants will serve as a vital link between animal enthusiasts and the services they need and enhance the performance of the business they are working for.

A Customer Service Practitioner will gain a broad spectrum of abilities, including:

Knowledge Development

- Recognise their role and responsibility within their organisation
- Understand the different needs of customers and the best way to manage their expectations
- Know their organisation's core values and how they link to the service culture
- Be familiar with measurement and evaluation tools to monitor customer service levels
- Understand how to build trust with a customer and why this is important

Skills Enrichment

- Develop a range of questioning skills, including listening and responding to build rapport
- Demonstrate patience and calmness
- Provide clear explanations and offer options to help customers make choices
- Show they understand the customer's point of view
- Use appropriate communication techniques, that reflect the organisation's brand

Functional Skills

Maths and English qualifications are an integral element of the apprenticeship standards.

These are implemented by Haddon Training's dedicated Functional Skills team and will be delivered either as individual or group sessions, depending on the learner's requirements. If the learner has completed Functional Skills previously or can provide suitable evidence, such as GCSE certificates or similar, they may be exempt from completing this element of the qualification.

Functional Skills
Learners will need to complete:
English	Level 1
Maths	Level 1

Qualification Overview

To achieve the Level 2 Customer Service Practitioner qualification, the learner must complete:

- All mandatory modules.
- All core behaviours.
- The End Point Assessment, in which all components must be passed.

The apprenticeship is awarded through the successful completion of an End Point Assessment (EPA). This consists of:

- A practical assessment in which the learner will be observed handling general enquiries, dealing with a customer complaint, and supporting a customer with further information or details.
- A professional discussion in which the learner is questioned on the knowledge learnt throughout the apprenticeship.

The qualification will take a minimum of 13 months to complete, dependent on a learner's prior knowledge and skills recorded on a skill scan and individual learning plan.
